University of New Brunswick
University of New Hampshire

The most prestigious Women's Hockey tournament in Canada will feature a mixture of the N.C.A.A. and C.I.A.U.'s finest hockey teams. Concordia University will be hosting the tournament for the 20th time at its Loyola Arena. The Stingers, who are ranked third in Canada, will be joined by the top two teams in the N.C.A.A. - U.N.H. and Northeastern.

The Stingers are led by last year's tournament M.V.P. Therese Brisson who plays defence. Brisson scored 57 goals and added 56 assists in 1986-87. Brisson will have some firepower upfront with the addition of Nancy Moore to the Stingers' roster. Moore has contributed 6 goals and 2 assists since joining the Stingers two games ago.

Pre-tournament favourite, Northeastern, are 14-0-1 so far this season. Northeastern are led by three Canadian players. Fiona Rice (Toronto, Ont.) is the leading scorer on the team with 10 goals and 19 assists. Sue Perkins (Brantford, Ont.) is the team's leading goal getter with 13. The player to watch for Northeastern will be Donna-Lynn Rosa, defense, (Toronto, Ont.) who is one of the best women's players in North America. Northeastern lost the 1987 N.C.A.A. final to U.N.H. 3-2.

University of New Hampshire, last year's N.C.A.A. champions are the most well coached team in the tournament. Russ McCurdy has a career 179-13-6 record including four unbeaten seasons. McCurdy brings to Montreal a 7-1-1 record and a lineup boasting two Canadians. Andria Hunter (Peterborough, Ont.) is one of the leading scorers on the team with 17 points. Rookie Karin Akre (Prince Albert, Sask.) has also contributed 12 points to the Wildcat Squad. U.N.H.'s only loss this season is to Northeastern.

OVER...

Cornell and Colby are the other two N.C.A.A. teams in the tournament. Cornell sports a 7-5 record this season, while Colby has a 9-6 record. Colby features the N.C.A.A.'s top goal scorer in Megan Patrick - 20 goals and 8 assists. Concordia has defeated both of these teams in the last 2 years.

The Ottawa team consists of an all-star team from the Ottawa region. They have already defeated U.N.H. in a controlled scrimmage and Concordia this season.

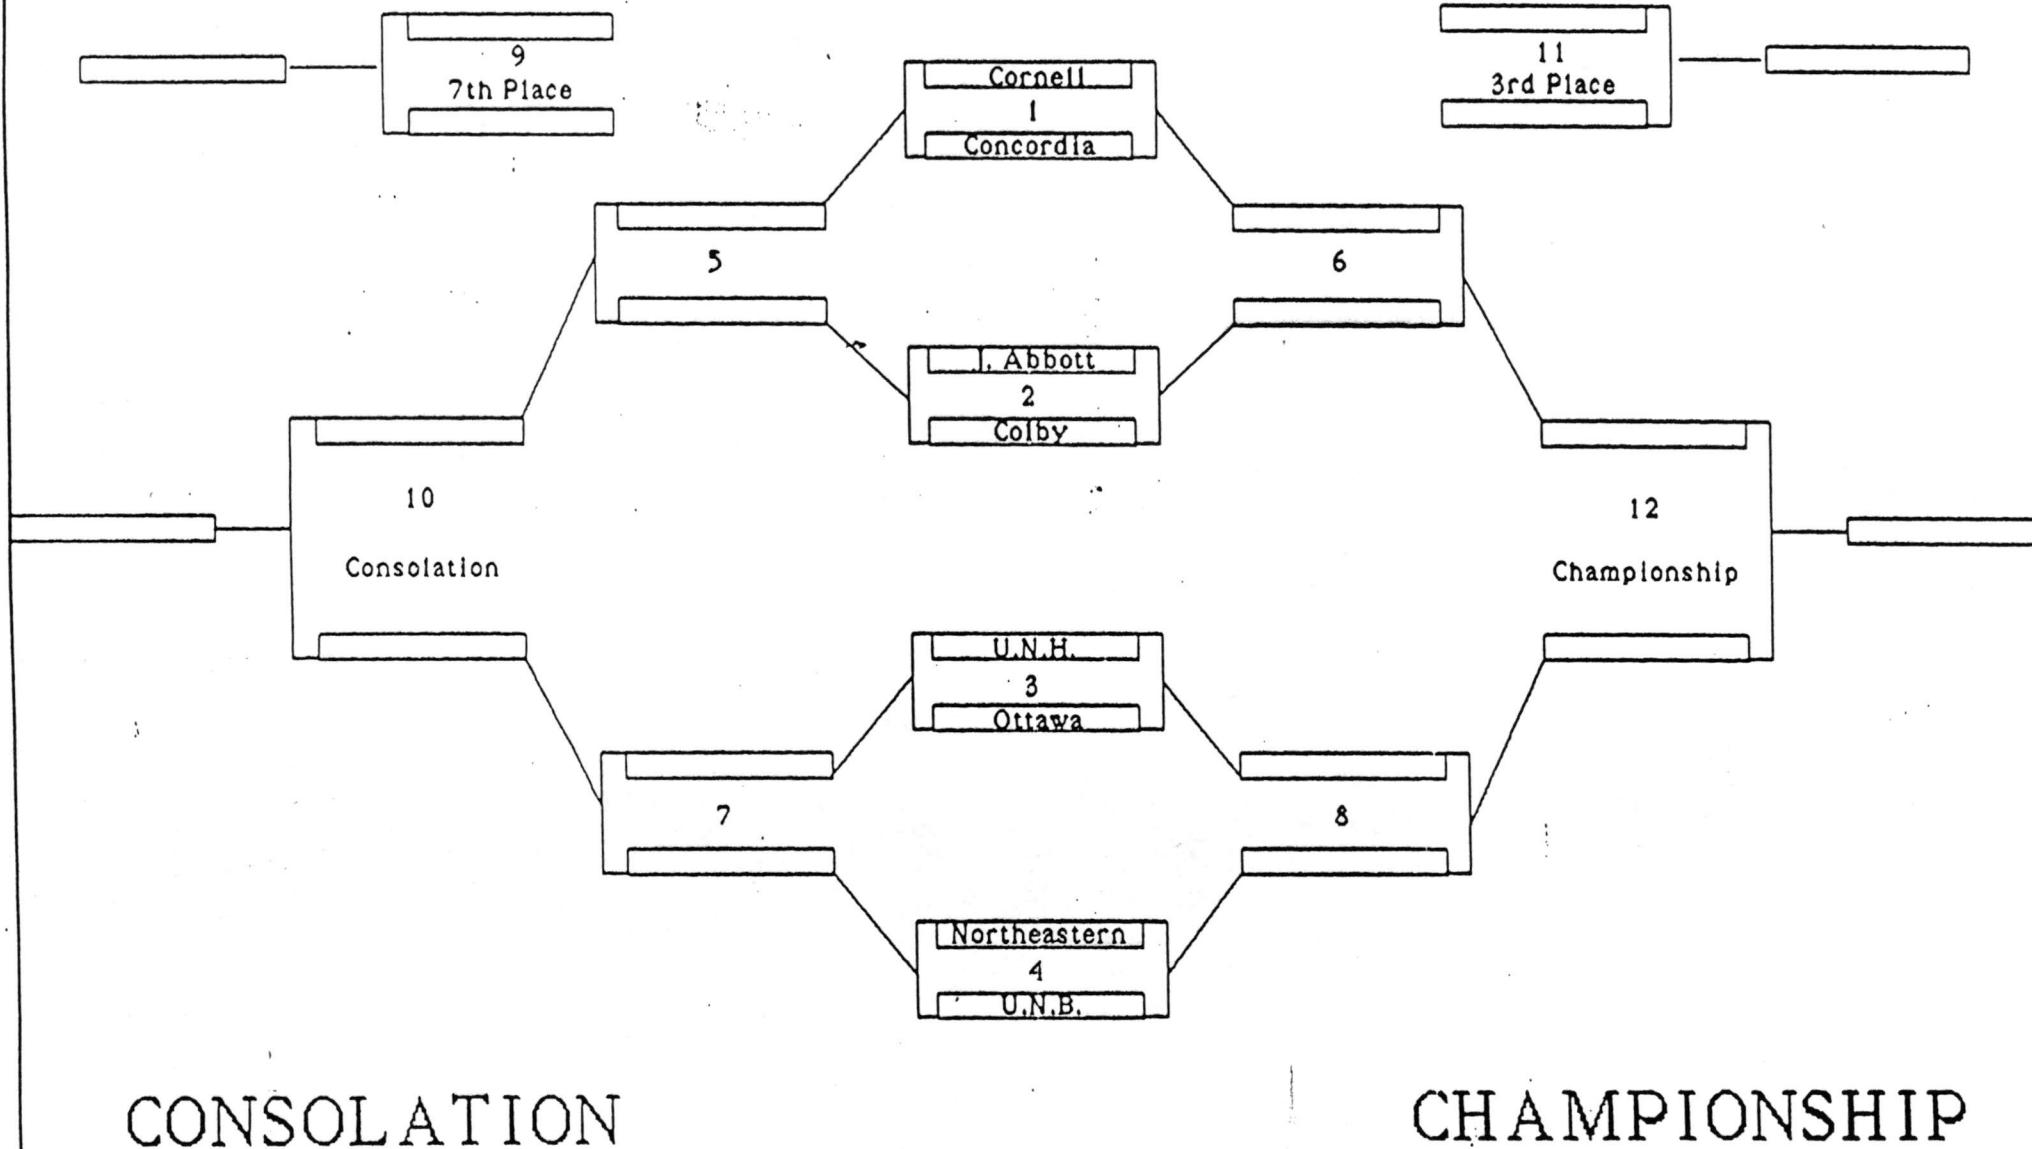

John Abbott College are currently 3-4 in Q.W.I.H.L. play while U.N.B. is somewhat of a dark horse. U.N.B. plays in a full-contact league and have the talent to defeat Northeastern in their opening game. This game could feature fireworks as Northeastern is one of the most aggressive teams in the N.C.A.A.

The tournament begins Friday, February 5 at 1:30 p.m. as Cornell faces Concordia. Don't miss this opportunity to see the finest women's Collegiate hockey action in North America.
